3. Corners in the Hallway

Each corner holds the remains of the people that once worked in this building, those that took refuge here during a traumatic event that inevitably killed them (asphyxiation). 2d4+2 of these corpses rise up as undead to attack the PCs as they approach. Each of the bodies has a Strength of 10 and a Dexterity of 10. Intelligence (10) and Perception (10) are also noted. The stone buried under the floor is also noted.

- Encounter: Minotaur
- Encounter: Minotaur
- Treasure: +1 Longspear
- Treasure: +1 Longspear

4. Guard Posts

These former minotaur guardsmen have since risen as (2) minotaur skeletons (one wielding a +1 longsword) and wait in this room until the PCs either discover them or make a loud noise elsewhere in the building. In the latter case the undead march through the hallway.

- Encounter: Minotaur
- Encounter: Minotaur
- Item: +1 Longspear

5. Fire Door

This door has a riddle etched into the wood: No legs have I to dance, No lungs have I to breathe, No life have I to live or die And yet I do all hree. What am I?

The answer is simple (fire), but a flame must be touched to the wood to cause the magical lock to lift, at which point the door opens automatically.
